EMERALD LAKE WATER SYSTEM VALUE STUDIED

Second Hearing Held In Proposal To Boost Rates

Value of the physical properties making up the Emerald Lake water system was placed by H. H. Jones, engineer and superintendent of the system, at $85,709, at a hearing here yesterday before Examiner W. T. Satterwhite of the State Railroad Commission.

The hearing is the second in recent weeks for the purpose of obtaining data to determine if the present rates at Emerald Lake shall be increased approximately double.

Jones said the original cost of the system was about $115,332.50. He took off 60 per cent of this for depreciation, making a net value of $46,133. This did not include $10,200 for the value of land, or $29,376 as the water right value of four springs, which, included, gave Jones' higher figure.

The inclusion of the $29,376 for water rights for the springs was attacked, however, by Engineer R. E. Savage of Redwood City, who pointed out that Jones said the springs ran dry part of the year. Jones said, however, that the four springs would average 16,000 gallons daily during the year, notwithstanding that during a dry year they would be non-productive part of the time.

Jones, under questioning of Attorney J. H. Morris, representing the applicant, the C. H. Holt Realty Company, said it cost approximately $4730 a year for labor to operate the pumps and read the meters.

The superintendent said that no cheaper operating costs could ensue as long as there was insufficient capital to increase the size of the pumps and the storage tanks. While he could not say how much the increased rates would bring in, he did say he believed it would be sufficient to operate the system at a profit instead of a loss, as at present.

This brought a question from Attorney Gilbert Ferrell, representing a group of protestants, if the system would be operated under the "same old way," precipitating a clash between himself, Attorney Morris and Superintendent Jones, who protested to Examiner Satterwhite that Ferrell's line of questioning was improper.

All services will be metered within 30 days after additional capital is assured, Jones said, so that the flat rates, which had been objected to by certain of the protestants, would be eliminated and each person will pay for the actual amount of water consumed.

Jones said $25,000 would be required to replace the present pumps to increase the efficiency of the service, and to provide additional storage tanks.

It was brought out during the hearing that Charles Holt used 4900 cubic feet in the past month; that George Leonard used 3233 cubic feet, and that an Oak Knoll party, unnamed by Superintendent Jones, tapped the line and stole 6666 gallons of water during the past 30 days.

The average home owner used 588 cubic feet during the month.

Buddy Poppy Sale Aids V. F. W. Home

One penny from each Buddy Poppy sold throughout the country prior to Memorial Day goes to the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home, said Commander Al Bechet of the local post today. Buddy Poppies will be sold Friday and Saturday.

The home, at Eaton Rapids, Mich., is for orphans of veterans. The project occupies approximately 600 acres of agricultural land, southeast of Eaton Rapids. Products from the farm itself keep these youngsters growing and healthy. Strict watch is kept over their physical welfare, with frequent health examinations and the facilities of a $35,000 hospital that was built and equipped by the National Auxiliary of the V.F.W.

RED CROSS HAS GOV'T FLOUR TO FEED THE NEEDY

Two hundred and fifty sacks of government wheat, made into flour, have arrived for distribution under the direction of the Redwood City chapter, American Red Cross. The flour is stored at the fire house on Middlefield road. It is being used by local relief workers and by the county social service for needy families in the territory covered by the local Red Cross chapter.

The Red Cross of the Pacific area had placed 137,295 barrels of flour up to May 14.

3RD TOXOID DOSE HELD UNNECESSARY

The 394 children who have taken the toxoid (anti-diphtheria) treatments at McKinley school during the past two weeks, will not require the third treatment, according to Miss Cora Clute, public health nurse, who assisted Dr. Robert F. Monteith in administering the doses.

Reecnt work on toxoid injections for the prevention of diphtheria has shown that the optimum results are obtained from two doses instead of three, as formerly administered. It has been found that 96 per cent immunity is about all that can be obtained regardless of the number of doses given. Therefore, as two doses will bring about this result, it has been deemed unnecessary and inadvisable to subject the children to further inoculation.

H. W. Amphlett Proves Able Orator at Annual N. S. G. W. Gathering

At the annual meeting of the Grand Parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West, the second day of the meeting is usually set aside for memorial exercises when the memory of those passing away during the year is recalled and a deserved tribute is paid the dead by orators of the order.

At Stockton last week the grand parlor met and as usual set aside Tuesday to observe the old custom of paying tribute to the memory of the dear departed.

Among the five speeches delivered on that occasion by the best orators of the state, the one given by Horace W. Amphlett, the well known San Mateo editor, was by far the best. It was a masterpiece of rhetoric and eloquence—holding the vast assemblage until the last word was spoken. The beautiful word painting, nicely turned sentences spoken in dulcet tones in a well modulated voice added to the notable address that was favorably commented upon by the delegates for days afterwards. Amphlett may be truly classed among the leading orators of the state of California.

Husband Left Home, Wife Seeks Divorce

Mrs. Ida DuPont today asked a divorce from John Dupont in a complaint filed with County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman, alleging cruelty. The plaintiff says her husband left his home on January 11 last and has not communicated with her since that time. They were married in San Francisco November 8, 1930. She asks the right to resume her maiden name of "Harrington." A. J. Howe of Palo Alto is counsel for the plaintiff.

LITERATURE SAVED

The United States Senate will keep the home fires burning. It has approved an appropriation of $500,000 for printing the Congressional Record. Now the constituents will have neatly printed government tinder with which to start their fires—for the Confressional Record must serve some purpose, however humble. — San Francisco Examiner.

JOBLESS ASKED TO RE-REGISTER AT R. C. OFFICE

Redistricting Of Area Necessitates Request

All unemployed persons in Redwood City and vicinity, whether or not previously registered, must re-register at the employment office at 807 Winslow street as a result of the redistricting of the local area by the reorganized unemployment relief committee, it was announced today by Carl Wagner, chairman.

The district now served by the Redwood City office is that between Cordilleras creek and Atherton and west to the Alameda de las Pulgas road between the Woodside road and Oak Knoll Manor. The area includes Oak Knoll Manor and Emerald Lake.

Relocation of the boundaries now provides for the registration at the local office of persons living outside the city limits of Redwood City who were previously not considered for employment through the Redwood City office nor through the county office.

The local redistricting plan is part of the county-wide system in which other territories of the county are tied in more closely on a co-operative basis with the county office, Wagner explains.

Registration is being made by Elmer M. Rowland, 807 Winslow street. The telephone number is Redwood City 1559 for those having work to offer persons now unemployed.

HISTORIC SITES IN SAN MATEO CO. GET MARKER O. K.

After two years' effort the 19 historic sites in San Mateo county which have been submitted to the State Chamber of Commerce for marking to call attention of tourists, have finally been approved.

Included in the list fully approved are 10 Portola camps, Broderick-Terry duelling place, Woodside store, Punta del Ano Nuevo, Pillar Point, Rancho del Rey, two Anza Camps and one Vancouver Camp.

Approval has also been given to the Hospice or Halfway House which formerly stood opposite what is now the Mills hospital, San Mateo, but the date of 1778 has not finally been approved as correct.

The application to number and mark the Hospice site is being held in abeyance for proof as to the date of its erection. This has frequently been given as 1778 but the state committee, composed of historians familiar and conversant with California history, asks for further evidence as to the correctness of this date before approving the site for marking.

Any authentic or documentary evidence as to the proper date of its erection will be appreciated by the county committee and should be sent to Roscoe D. Wyatt, secretary, county chamber of commerce, Redwood City, to clear up this uncertainty. This will insure early and consecutive marking and numbering of historic sites and will make them easily available to visiting tourists and other travelers.

Members of the county committee include Wyatt, chairman; George J. Davis, A. B. Cargill and John South, Burlingame; Roy W. Cloud, John Gill, Dennis O'Keefe, John Isaacs, Asa Hull, William Vielhauer, Redwood City; George Hall, Gilbert Keitle, Dr. F. M. Stanger and Horace Amphlett, San Mateo; Judge M. J. Bettencourt and George Dunne, Half Moon Bay; R. Guy Smith, Moss Beach; H. B. Cook Jr., San Carlos, and E. C. Peck and Ray Spangler, South San Francisco.

Yomecan Club Sees Title Co. Pictures

Talking pictures of title insurance methods were shown to members of the Yomecan Club at their meeting here on Wednesday evening, when Pres. Frank Delucchi was chairman.

Elbert Thomas reported on the club's plan to send a Redwood City boy to summer camp as the guest of the Yomecans.

The club will not hold its meeting next week to permit members to attend the Sequoia Alumni Association banquet at the high school.

RECOUNT WINS DALY CITY MAN COUNCIL SEAT

Contestant Victor By Six-Vote Margin In Court

Six votes!

By that margin, John J. Fahey, Daly City Voters' League candidate, won a place on the Daly City city council over Henry Sundermann, incumbent, when a court canvass was completed before Superior Judge Franklin Swart this week.

Fahey brought the contest, alleging the Daly City election boards had miscounted the votes in the seven precincts, giving Sundermann one of the two seats by the narrow margin of eight votes.

In the recount, however, Sundermann dropped the lead of eight votes and six additional ballots, all of which went in favor of Fahey to increase his vote 14 points for a lead of six ballots.

Arthur J. Bodien, incumbent, remained high in the voting with 1348. Andrew Chesney, Fahey's running mate, was still fourth with 1092, and Dr. A. H. Rankin, an independent, polled 563.

Besides asking a recount in the election the Daly City Taxpayers' League declared that there were irregularities in the purchase of city supplies and asked District Attorney Edmund Scott to make an investigation.

Yesterday a delegation from the League appeared before the district attorney and asked what progress was being made.

In the party were Charles Rodenberger, Allan B. Gould, Dan Convey and Ray O'Connor.

CAMP YU-MI-CI-A HAS IMPROVEMENTS

Boys who will attend Camp Yu-Mi-Ci-A, the Young Men's Christian Association boys' camp near Pescadero, will scarcely know the place, according to the camp committee. On Wednesday of this past week a concrete dam was started which will back water for swimming so as to form a pool 600 feet long and make it possible for boating two or three times this distance. In order to assure safety a special life guard will be in charge.

Practically the whole area in this spot has been cleared from the thick underbrush. Several new trails have been made.

The big stumps in the play area have been blown out and the ground filled in so that the camp will have a fine field for sports.

On June 5 will be the dedication of the new dining hall and lodge, a gift of the Gyro Service Club of San Francisco.

This camp is open to all boys of Palo Alto, Redwood City and other peninsula communities. The cost is $7 per week. The camp period especially set aside for local boys is June 19 to July 3. A boy has the privilege of staying either one or two weeks. If longer periods are desired boys can be accommodated by calling Roy A. Hohberger, the local Y.M.C.A. secretary at the Community House in Palo Alto or in Redwood City at 974.

SCHOOL PAPER WINS LAURELS DURING YEAR

With the publication this week of its final issue for the school year 1931-32, the Sequoia Times of Sequoia high school completed work which has gained national recognition in scholastic journalism competition.

The most recent honor was first class rating in the National Scholastic Press Association contest at Minneapolis. The paper scored 835 points, 15 short of the number necessary to give it the all-American rating it won last year.

George Schoeder is the retiring editor and Howard Dodge is editor-elect. The latter has named for his staff next year Phyllis Pennebaker, managing editor; Elinor Forster, associate editor; Jack Reynick, sports editor; Elbridge Merrill, feature editor, and Harold Wise, advertising manager.

NINE ASKING ELECTION TO 2 LOCAL COURTS

Nine men had entered the race for the two superior judgeships in San Mateo county today.

The two latest to file, both in opposition to Superior Judge George H. Buck, veteran of 42 years' service on the San Mateo county bench, were Maxwell McNutt, Burlingame attorney, and Joseph J. Bullock, Redwood City attorney.

Besides these two and Judge Buck, two other candidates will seek the bench in Department No. 1. They are City Attorney John F. Davis of Burlingame, and Attorney Charles M. Frey of Redwood City.

This will place four men in opposition to Judge Buck's re-election on August 30.

In Department No. 2, Superior Judge Franklin Swart will be opposed by Attorney Bush Finnell of Lomita Park and Justice of the Peace Percy Jackson of Burlingame.

The ninth man, Attorney John E. Manders of Redwood City, will test the new state law which requires that a candidate must specify the office he seeks if there are several departments, as in the case of superior judges. He will immediately file mandamus proceedings against County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman, seeking to force the latter to place his name on the ballot.

Manders, if high man, will claim one or the other bench, and if second high, will take the one left after the candidate who specified the bench he sought, is seated.

In announcing his candidacy, McNutt said.

"As a lawyer of more than 30 years' general office and state and federal court trail experience," said McNutt, "I feel that I am qualified to discharge the duties involved, and should my fellow citizens honor me by elevation to the high post which I seek, the best years of my life and my most conscientious endeavors will be devoted to their service. The thought always uppermost in my mind will be that the position belongs to the public and that its occupant is a non-political servant.

"It is my good fortune and happiness to have spent a considerable part of my life here, much of my boyhood at Menlo Park, and for the past 16 years in San Mateo and Burlingame.

"If my fellow citizens have the confidence in me to give me their support, I will do my part to the best of my ability to the end that the trust reposed in me be justified."

FREEHOLDERS IN STUDY OF TYPES FOR COUNTY GOV'T

Types of government outlined by Prof. Edwin A. Cottrell of Stanford University at its meeting Monday were debated in a round-table discussion of the board of freeholders at the courthouse in Redwood City Wednesday. Chairman James B. Howell of Atherton presided.

Much attention was paid to two distinct types, both of which call for a controlled executive. One provided that the county manager should be elected by the people, and the other that he should be selected by the board of supervisors.

The other two types were the commission form, with all powers vested in the board of supervisors, and the controlled-executive type which would make one of the supervisors the chief executive of the county with a salary double that of the other members.

Types one and two closely resemble the application of the city manager plan of government to county government.

No final decision is expected to be reached in this important matter of type of government until the hearings are considerably underway. Another session will be held Wednesday night next.

PLANE NOSES INTO FENCE NEAR AIRPORT

Pilot, Passenger Not Hurt In Forced Landing

Making a forced landing in a field between Broadway and the Bayshore highway at Spring street when the motor of their biplane went dead at 11:10 o'clock this Tuesday, a transport pilot from Mills Field, San Bruno, and a Chinese student pilot he was instructing escaped injury although their plane nosed over after crashing through a fence.

At the controls was Vernon L. Boswell, 1358 Forty-sixth avenue, San Francisco. The passenger was Orin Choy, a 20-year-old Chinese aviation enthusiast living at 1074 Stockton street, San Francisco.

Boswell told Officer S. E. Douglass of the Redwood City Police Department and Deputy Sheriff C. A. Callaghan that he had circled the Sanders airport at the end of Broadway preparatory to landing when the motor stopped.

When an attempt to land on the Bayshore highway failed, Boswell headed the plane into the field. The landing would have been successful but for a double fence which broke the propeller and stopped the wheels suddenly, causing the ship to go over on its nose.

Except for a smashed propeller and a crumpled lower left wing, the plan was not badly damaged.

Boswell and Choy had landed at the Palo Alto airport prior to returning to Mills field.

The plane is registered to Dana D. Thompson, Mills Field, and is operated by the Sunset Air Service. It is a two-passenger Fleet biplane powered by a 100 H. P. Kinner motor.

A truck hauled it to the Sanders field for repairs.

San Mateo Co. Has Space In Blue Book

SACRAMENTO, May 26.—Hailed as the most authoritative and comprehensive book ever compiled on the agricultural, industrial and commercial opportunities, as well as the recreational advantages, history and natural scenic beauty of San Mateo county, the 1932 edition of the California Blue Book today stands ready for publication.

Frank C. Jordan, veteran secretary of state, so declared today, in announcing that the Blue Book would contain many new and highly useful features and important data about each county.

The book will be sold at $2 per copy in order to cover the actual cost of compilation, publication and distribution, as a result of an agreement between Jordan and Rolland A. Vandegrift, state finance director. The book will be distributed by Eric Cullenward, chief of the state bureau of publications and documents.

"I firmly believe that the 1932 Blue Book will be one of the most complete, authoritative and useful documents published," Jordan said. "It will virtually be a combination encyclopedia and a Who's Who of the state, county, city, township, and federal governmental units in California."

Mt. View Red Sox Down Sport Shop Tossers, 14 To 7

The Mountain View Red Sox scored their fifth straight victory in Valley League play Sunday by taking the Palo Alto Sport Shop nine into camp by a 14 to 7 score. The game was played on the Community field.

Janovich was the hitting star for the winners, connecting for four hits out of five trips to the plate. Mathias and Manfredi hammered out home runs to help the Mountain View cause. Sypher, Berti and Rettig also found the Palo Alto pitchers for hard and timely blows.

Alves led the Sport Shop in hitting with a triple and a single.

Tex Rickard left an estate appraised at $500,000, but it was finally valued at about $184,000.

Werder, Eastburn Sailboat First In Sea Scout Races

The sailboat Petrel, built and sailed by Lawrence Werder and Sam Eastburn, won the Sea Scout handicap race Sunday at the Redwood City Yacht Harbor. Happy Days, Pete Gambetta at the tiller, rolled in second and Ira Carlock wafted his windbuggy in third.

The boats were sent over the line at intervals according to their handicapped time. An unusually strong wind was blowing and the yachts bowled along at a rapid rate. The Petrel was seen to pile on plenty of spare canvas on the run down Long Reach. Everything was on the line including a bedspread.

Mgr. Thomas Kane of the Sequoia Theater offered four passes to the winner, three to the second and one to the third. They were presented to the winners after the race.

Scram Sets New Mark

All sailers beat their previous time and four bettered the record for the course, which was 42 minutes. The Scram came through again in fast time beating its own record down to 35 minutes.

The boats finished in the order given and in the net elapsed time shown:

Petrel (Werder and Eastburn), 47.10 minutes; Happy Days (P. Gambetta), 43; Irac (I. Carlock), 53.30; Honey (L. Cafferata), 51.30; Roll-On (A. and F. Thorne), 38.30; Chunky (G. Rhoda), 41; Scram (J. and R. Rhoda), 35; Imp (C. Woodhams and J. Diehl), 47, and Dab (J. Gambetta), 41.20.

After the race the fleet performed about the harbor, giving a fancy exhibition of rails down, skidding on one ear and tempting the whitecaps to come aboard, in the nifty breeze which came driving over the water. The two water acrobats, Gambetta and George Rhoda, gave their boats the wind until the sails lay flat on the water and then calmly climbed out on the keel and pulled them back and sailed on, not shipping any water or getting wet.

Races will be continued throughout the summer about every four weeks, according to John Rhoda, Sea Scout skipper.

Tom Shine Stars In Woodside Ball Win

WOODSIDE, May 23 — Tom Shine, veteran shortstop and leading hitter of the Woodside Firemen's baseball team, added a grand finale to yesterday's brilliant contest with the Mission Reds junior team of San Francisco by scoring the winning run in the last half of the ninth inning.

After the Missions had scored their four runs in the first frame Woodside tied the score in the seventh and paved the way for Shine's play. He was on third base and raced homeward on a bunt laid down by Vern Kelly. Shine collided near the plate with Randall, visiting catcher, knocking out the latter and scoring the run. Randall was out for 10 minutes.

Hallett and O'Neill made up the winners' battery, with Hallett fanning 10.

LOCALS LOSE CONTEST IN 9TH INNING

By EL THOMAS

After sailing along smoothly for seven innings with a lead of 6 to 3, the Redwood City Eagles struck a snag in the eighth and watched their Peninsula Baseball League contest go to the Darcy Sport Shop nine of San Mateo, 8 to 6, as the result of a four-run rally in the ninth frame at Redwood City Sunday afternoon.

Meanwhile, the Aloise Market outfit maintained its string of straight victories to hold the leadership of the league with a 6-to-5 win over the South San Francisco Redmen at South San Francisco.

Leo LeRoy, Eagle pitcher, allowed but three hits and one run until the seventh inning. The Eagles, led by Gene Miller with four for four and Bill Brock with three for five, had bunched four hits each in the fourth and fifth innings to put them out in front before the hurricane.

Osterman's Triple Counts

A boot by Charlie Clancy, Eagle shortstop, in the eighth was the first flaw of the game and allowed Pastorelli to score. Although the Redwood City team retired the side on a double play, Farrell to Clancy to Brook, the way was paved for defeat.

Byrd started off the ninth for the sport shop with a walk. Successive singles by Bernie and Jimmy Pease sent Byrd in and put Bernie Pease in a position to tie the score on Pastorelli's single and an error by Jordan. Osterman, Darcy second baseman, virtually broke up the game with a three-bagger, scoring Jimmy Pease and Pastorelli and leaving the score at 8 to 6.

In the Eagles' half, Ken Farrell singled and reached third on Miller's sacrifice but could not reach home.

LeRoy, who allowed 12 hits to 16 off Angelo of the Sport Shop, was off to a victory yesterday and the defeat was through no direct fault of his.

Brook, Miller Star At Bat

One result of the game was the batting of Bill Brook, Eagle first baseman, who came out of his slump to bat in three runs on five attempts. Miller, Eagle outfielder, had a perfect day, four for four.

Burlingame Prep Tennis Team Wins P. A. L. Net Title

By DICK WESTERMANN

The Burlingame high school tennis team defeated the Palo Alto high school two matches to one in the Peninsula Athletic League title play-off on the Stanford courts last week-end.

Bryce Younkin established himself as the peninsula's premier singles played by defeating Junior Chessum of Burlingame in three hard fought sets. Younkin's powerful serves and bewildering net game were his main assets in the match. Younkin took the first set 6-4 by virtue of his breaking through Chessum's service in the fourth game. Chessum scored a comeback in the second set to win by a score of 6-3. In the third set Younkin came through with some sizzling drives that all but swept Chessum off the court winning the set, 6-3.

Bill Martin, Burlingame, defeated Roger Vetter, Palo Alto, with little trouble, the scores in the two sets being 6-3, 6-3. Vetter was a bit off his game. John Wickett and Paul Livesay, the Viking doubles combine, lost in straight sets to the Burlingame team of White and Anderson by scores of 6-4, 6-2.

Complaint Dropped In Lake Water Case

Upon request of Paul Thieme, the complaint filed by him with the railroad commission against the C. H. Holt Realty Company, has been dismissed. The complaint alleged failure to make water connections with Thieme's home in Oak Knoll Manor, Redwood City, unless labor and meter charges of $25 were made at the time of installation.

CLIMATE CAUSES DIFFERENCES IN SEQUOIA TYPES

YOSEMITE, May 23.—The difference between the big trees of the Sierra (Sequoia Gigantea) and the coast redwoods (Sequoia Sempervirens) is entirely due to the difference in climate in the two regions according to Dr. Frederick E. Clements, an eminent botanist who recently visited Yosemite. He explained that ages ago there was a sequoia somewhat similar to the coast redwood living throughout the western states, that the two sequoias we now know are the direct descendents of this common ancestor with such changes as have been brought about by their environment. While both are similar in many respects, being of the same family, the coast redwoods are in general taller trees while the Sierra big trees as found principally in Sequoia and General Grant National Parks and in the Mariposa Grove in Yosemite Park are in general larger in diameter and of greater age. Geologists believe that the big trees in the Mariposa Grove, some 600 fine specimens, escaped destruction by being clear of the path of the ancient glaciers that helped to carve Yosemite Valley. To distinguish between the two varieties of sequoias, the Sierra trees are called big trees and the coast trees commonly called redwoods.

The truck and stage collided at Fourth avenue and Fremont street. The stage was driven by Frank Madison.

Joseph Canzanen, 16, riding with Rovetta, jumped and escaped injury. Leano M. Nantoani, 17, also on the delivery truck, suffered a fractured ankle.

BURLINGAME, May 25.—Born on the high seas, Mrs. Mary Van Patten, 70, who died in Tonopah, Nev., Sunday, often expressed a wish that her remains would be cremated and the ashes scattered over the waves.

S. F. Ousts Francis As Head of Airport

San Francisco's periodical discharge of its municipal airport chiefs today had resulted in the dismissal of Capt. Roy N. Francis, who was given the opportunity to "resign."

Captain Francis, who has held the $3600 yearly post for two and one-half years, fainted at the San Francisco City Hall when informed that his services were no longer needed at the airport. He was quickly revived.

Like the salmon, the reindeer returns to the place of its birth to bear its young.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Accept a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

OTHERS MAKE PORTS OF MERE MUD STREAMS AND HAYFIELDS

Down in San Jose there is much jubilation over the news from Washington that the proposed deep-sea port at the extreme end of San Francisco bay has been recommended by the rivers' and harbors' committee of the house of representatives. The committee recommends that $300,000 of federal funds be provided toward the proposed $2,000,000 San Jose harbor. The government's funds would be used in cutting a channel 27 feet deep and 500 feet wide through the San Bruno shoal (which will take about $40,000), and for half the cost of dredging a channel 300 feet wide and 27 feet deep from Dumbarton point to the proposed harbor site at the mouth of the Guadalupe river, not far from Alviso. At that point, a turning basin 600 feet wide, 1200 feet long and 30 feet deep would be dredged.

San Jose cannot be blamed for that feeling of joy which came when Congressman Free wired what he had done in behalf of his home city. The Garden City now has virtual assurance that the federal government will provide primary funds in the next rivers' and harbors' bill which will come before congress. If so, San Jose's harbor steps beyond the line of doubt and into the circle of reality. Once the dredges go to work on the shallow streams at Alviso (which now hardly carry a rowboat across when the tide is out), San Jose will push its harbor until it witnesses the coming of ocean-going vessels.

San Mateo county, with the only natural harbor south of San Francisco on either side of the bay, will probably stand by with its hands in its pockets, watching the freighters go by, and wondering why less favored ports go ahead.

It seems strange, indeed, that cities without a semblance of a harbor to begin with like Stockton, Los Angeles and San Jose, can go out and dredge channels across dry lands if necessary, while Redwood City, with a natural deep-water channel, is not as far along with water commerce as it was 50 or 75 years ago.

WARNING AGAINST MUSSELS

Laboratory examinations of mussels that have been gathered along the Northern California coast indicate that they are poisonous at the present time for human consumption. Individuals who may go to the various beaches along the Northern California coast over the week-end are warned not to eat mussels because of the danger of contracting mussel poisoning.

Dr. Giles S. Porter, director of the State Department of Public Health, has placed a quarantine on all mussels within the coast area from Monterey county to the Klamath river in Del Norte county, with the exception of the bay of San Francisco. Poisonous mussels are not found in the bay waters but they are found in other coastal waters. Under the provisions of this quarantine order, the sale or offering for sale of mussels gathered within the specified areas for the period May 16—September 30 is prohibited.

In co-operation with Dr. Karl F. Meyer, director of the Hooper Foundation for Medical Research, examinations of mussels are made at state intervals throughout the year. It has been determined that these shellfish lose most of their toxicity during the winter months. In the spring they become more toxic, reaching a maximum state of toxicity about the middle of July and gradually becoming less toxic until late fall. The poisonous qualities are higher at the present time than they are ordinarily at this season of the year. Since low tides will prevail over the week-end, it is particularly important that picnickers and beach parties refrain from gathering and eating mussels, lest they contract this uncomfortable and possibly fatal disease. In 1927, there were 102 cases of mussel poisoning with four deaths reported. In 1930 there was but one case reported and in 1931 but 2 cases were reported. All of these recovered. The relatively few cases that have been reported during the past two years may be due largely to the warnings that have been issued by the newspapers in cities along the coast.

Extended research has failed as yet to reveal the exact cause of mussel poisoning, but there is every evidence it is due to faulty metabolism that occurs during the spawning season of these mollusks. It has been determined that the poisoning is not due to bacteria, nor is it due to decomposition that may take place when the bivalves are exposed to sun and air at low tides. Since mussels are gathered easily when tides are low, there is a great tempation to gather them and consume them on the beaches near where they are gathered. To do this may involve a great risk, leading to illness and possible death.

DENYING A MAN A CHANCE TO COME BACK

Rain, that exotic drama of the South Seas, which first made Jean Eagles a famous stage star and later was filmed as a silent picture with Gloria Swanson in the leading role of Sadie Thompson, is now to be made into a talking picture with Joan Crawford and Walter Huston starred.

Paul Kelly, released some months ago from San Quentin prison, was first selected by Lewis Milestone, who will direct the picture, for the role of the missionary who sought to reform Sadie.

Milestone was sympathetic with Kelly's anxiety to rehabilitate himself and even Will Hays took the attitude that Kelly had paid his debt to society; and that on account of his prison record he should not be deprived of a part for which Milestone believed him to be particularly fitted.

But Joseph Schenck, president of the producing company, was fearful that Kelly's appearance in the picture might affect its returns at the box office.

So, in spite of Milestone and Hays he ordered him removed from the cast; and Huston was substituted.

On this matter most people will feel strongly that Milestone and Hays were right and Schenck was wrong.

Any man who is trying honestly to come back after a misstep merits a good warm slap on the shoulder, not a kick in the trousers' seat.—Sacramento Bee.

Communists Request Place On Co. Ballot

Containing 200 signatures, a petition was on file with County Clerk Elmore B. Hinman in Redwood City today asking that the Communist party be allowed to enter candidates in the forthcoming August 30 primary election.

The petition marks the first appearance of the Communist party in San Mateo county.

Henry Ricci and George Brown, both residents of Burlingame, after hearing that they had signed a petition endorsing the Communist Party, declared they were not Communists and wished to have their names withdrawn.

They said they signed the petition not knowing what it proposed.

Water System Sale Wins State Approval

The railroad commission has authorized the Ratterree Bros. Co. to sell to Clyde Henry its public utility water system serving Golden West Park, in Visitacion Valley, San Mateo county.

There were 1,568 injuries among 15,500 players in Ohio scholastic football during the past season.

THE UNRELIABLES

The Curtis confession, if it actually is what it so incredibly purposes to be, may serve as one more illustration of the nation's gross unpreparedness against the deadliest enemy in all history.

Confronted by a foe that menaced every sacred and intimate possession of the American people, this republic mobilized its energies in the form of an almost unprecedented hysteria. The Curtis hoax, if it was indeed what Mr. Curtis has confessed it to be, was merely one phase of a campaign that resembled mob action rather than warfare.

Mr. Curtis entered the picture prominently because of his credentials—but except for his standing as a respected citizen, an associate of respected citizens, there was never anything to guarantee us that he was not merely another of the thousands of self-appointed participants whose activities ranged in type between stupidity and madness. He was not unique. He was merely more prominent than most of the others. And the conduct of this case was most conspicuously governed, not by professionals trained to fight crime but by volunteers rendered ineffective by their own hysteria—sincere or self-seeking.

Until this republic has a crime-fighting army disciplined into some degree of professional effectiveness, it must turn over its great crimes to whatever mob it attracted by their sensational aspects.

As long as that necessity exists every unusual effort in the nation's flight against crime will be handicapped by swarming hoaxers, romancers, publicity seekers, scandal-peddlers and sightseers.

If a community cannot or will not maintain a trained fire department, its fires must be fought by volunteers, with the usual average of unreliables among them. The bigger the fire is—the greater the need for trained resistance—the larger the mob of volunteers will be, and the more numerous the unreliables.—San Diego Union

JAPAN IS STILL FAR SHORT OF DEMOCRACY

Recent events in Japan are a reminder how strong remains the military and naval caste in that country.

The heads of the army and navy take their orders not from the ministry and parliament, but directly from the emperor himself. Hence the belief of the officers thereof that they can do as they please, even to the assassination of a premier. Japan still has a long way to go before she becomes a real democracy.—Fresno Tribune.

NO LOW FLYING

LOS ANGELES. — When the Olympic Games get under way here, airplane pilots had best watch their altitude during the period from July 30 to August 14. The latest air commerce regulation states that airmen must keep more than 1,000 feet in the air over any of the open air stadiums or areas where competition is occurring.

OLYMPIC GAMES INTEREST

With August less than three months away, interest in the Olympic Games is picking up. In New York, Governor Roosevelt has proclaimed a "Nations Boys and Olympic Week" and the mayor of the nation's largest city has asked the schools especially to co-operate. The Times, leading newspaper of the same municipality adds: "the showing made by the boys and girls who have participated in other Olympics, beginning in Athens in 1906 and ending in Amsterdam in 1928, is creditable. An even larger representation should be made possible from this city and state at Los Angeles."

Over in England where money to finance athletes for the long trip is not easy to obtain, Sir William Beach Thomas has been making an appeal, paying us the compliment of saying that we are "a very hospitable people," and "that a good host demands a good guest." It would seem an unfriendly act, he says, to send a team ill supplied.

Within a few weeks the athletes will be arriving. There will be more than two thousand of them and from at least 40 nations. Nine stadia with a combined seating capacity of 350,000 will be used to accommodate the crowds which will witness 135 distinct programs.

Recalled is the fact that in the initial letter of Baron Coubertin in 1894 which led to the reviving of the Olympic Games, he urged that:

"Before all things it is necessary that we should preserve in sport those characteristics of nobility and chivalry which have distinguished it in the past, so that it may continue to play the same part in the education of the peoples of today as it played so admirably in the days of ancient Greece."

In their modern revival the Olympics, seeking to maintain the traditions, are held in various centers of the world. The 1932 one to be held soon at Los Angeles has now become, in many nations, a subject of leading interest. — Oakland Tribune.

THE AKRON'S VISIT

The mists lifted and against the blue skies rode the Akron Over the East Bay cities, circling, the world's largest dirigible spent a great part of the day giving the people thrills and unusual experience.

Though a bit late, as it turned out, the timing of the visit could not have been better suited. Perhaps the men in the Akron could see the crowds on the streets halt, note the populated roofs, and look upon school house doors thrown open to let out the excited children.

With the base at Sunnyvale in the making the dirigible will become a familiar sight. Yesterday we looked upon it as a new and beautiful object shining as it floated in the sky. It was regarded romantically rather than statistically for it was difficult, with the wonder of the sight in mind, to think of its amazing figures. A ship of the air 785 feet long and a maximum diameter of 132.9 feet, one which can carry a useful load of 182,000 pounds and has a range of 9000 nautical miles at a speed of 50 knots, caught the sun on its sides and was a thing of grace.

Men interested in air transportation say the acceptance by the navy of the Akron has brought much closer the utilization of the airship for commercial operations and that "the inherent ability of the dirigible to carry a large payload over a long distance makes this craft particularly applicable to transoceanic service." Electricians, watching the flight, may have thought, but it is doubtful, of the fact its entire electrical equipment weighs but 3000 pounds, a saving of from 30 to 80 per cent of weight of corresponding commercial apparatus. There is a main power plant with two 11 kw. generators which are driven by gasoline engines and, in addition, two motor generator sets for the radio system. A switchboard with voltage regulator meters, switches and lightning arresters, three motorized pumps, fans, telephone, lighting system and searchlight are on board. The saving in weight is made by using aluminum alloy in place of iron and steel wherever possible, by using hollow shafts and making the switchboard of micarta-covered plywood.

To the mechanically-minded the big ship is a traveling museum of modern equipment and efficiency. To the crowds, as they watched it was a gigantic toy built by men for the enjoyment to be gained by looking at it sail the skies.—Oakland Tribune

JAPAN BACKS DOWN

Japan announces that in order to "end the world-wide odium which has fallen upon us," the remaining members of the Shanghai expeditionary force will be withdrawn within a month.

Since the League of Nations was the mouthpiece for world opinion, how can those who belittle the league deny that it was the foremost influence in forcing Japan to withdraw?

With Japan's experience as an object lesson, will other nations soon fly in the face of public opinion as expressed through the medium of the league?

Japan, with divided power, but with the military free to handle the army and make warlike moves as it will, offers the world its chief problem in enforcement of peace, yet even Japan has been forced back into place by world opinion as voiced by the league. Japan's action comes after enemies of the league had assured us that the league was powerless and that Japan could not be stopped. What will they say now? They will present arguments to show that Japan acted in line with public opinion in spite of the league rather than because of it, no doubt.

And don't forget that although the United States is not in the league and is controlled by the most bitter enemies of the league, when the crisis came our country worked hand in hand with the league because it offered the only medium in tune with our international policy. For practical purposes we became a member of the league.

The withdrawal of Japan and her administration that it was to "end the world-wide odium which has fallen upon us" is a great victory for peace and for the League of Nations.—Oroville Mercury-Register.

SOUNDS REASONABLE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — In explaining why he lost control of his taxi and crashed into another car, Charles Angleton, 24, had a good story. He said that on pulling hard on the steering wheel his hand slipped and that his elbow cracked against the cab door. The blow on the "crazy bone" temporarily dazed him.

Average Dental Bill $18 Annually

WASHINGTON—The total annual dental bill of the 24,000,000 individuals treated each year by the nation's 56,800 dentists in private practice amounts to $446,000,000, an average of $18 per patient, according to an analysis of "Dental Practice and Income" just completed for the American Dental Association by Dr. Maurice Leven, staff member of the committee on the costs of medical care.

Dr. Leven's figures are based on a study for the year 1929 covering 20 states and the results through interpolation, have been extended to obtain estimates for for the entire United States.

The survey was conducted by the committee on the study of dental practice of the American Dental Association in collaboration with the committee on the costs of medical care, which, under the chairmanship of Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, will in the autumn issue its final report including recommendations based on its exhaustive five-year study into the problem of "the delivery of adequate, scientific medical service to all the people, rich and poor, at a cost which can be reasonably met by them in their respective stations in life."

The annual net (median) income of dentists in the 20 states was found to be $4100 and their gross (median) income, $6600.

Only 20 Per Cent Have Care

Other important facts revealed by the study include:

1. Approximately 20 per cent of the individuals in the 20 states studied received dental service during the year.

2. From 36 to 43 per cent of the amount paid dentists by patients goes to pay the expenses of professional practice, such as rent, materials, and salaries of assistants.

3. More than 30 per cent of the dentists in the 20 states surveyed had net incomes of less than $3000, and about 38 per cent of more than $5000. The middle income was approximately $4100.

4. Gross incomes of dentists in metropolitan centers are 100 per cent higher than in towns with a population of less than 5000, due partly to the concentration of specialists in the larger cities.

5. Dentists' incomes in the South are lower than elsewhere, while of the large cities surveyed, New York City dentists have the highest net incomes, followed by those practicing in Los Angeles, Chicago and Philadelphia.

6. Losses of dentists due to uncollectible bills are small, since 70 per cent of the dentists estimated that their collection losses do not exceed five per cent of their total charges.

7. The "average" dentist treats eight patients a day and comes in contact with 430 different patients during the year.

Collection Losses

The hourly income which dentists try to maintain is higher in cities than in the smaller communities. In places under 10,000 in population, $5 per hour is the median rate, but in cities of over one million the median is $8.

In cities, dentists frequently consult references or rating bureaus to ascertain a patient's credit standing. In smaller communities such a procedure is considered unnecessary, for the practitioners usually have direct knowledge of the financial status of their clients

Dentists practicing among wealthy clientele suffer a larger percentage of uncollectible bills than do those whose patients are of lower financial levels.

Lowest in Georgia

Gross incomes reported by the dentists co-operating in the study varied from almost nothing to a maximum of $193,000. The lowest median gross income for any state was found in Georgia, $4500, followed by Missouri and Mississippi, with $4900 and $4920 respectively. Arizona had the highest median gross income, $9930, after which comes New York state with a median of $9600.

The complete specialists reported the highest net incomes, averaging $8600, while the corresponding incomes for partial specialists and general practitioners average $5800 and and $4600 respectively.

The results of Dr. Leven's study are being published in book form by the University of Chicago Press under the title of "The Practice of Dentistry and the Incomes of Dentists in Twenty States: 1929."

National Forest Regulations

The United States Forest Service announces that summer fire regulations, made for the safety of visitors and the protection of the forest, watershed and recreational resources, go into effect in the four national forests of Southern California on May 15, and in all national forests north of the Tehachapi on June 1.

These federal regulations require that a camp fire permit be secured before building any fire, including fires in stoves burning wood, kerosene or gasoline, on national forest lands. Permits may be secured free of charge from any federal or state forest officer, automobile clubs, and local authorized agents, but must be obtained before the fire is lighted. In the Angeles, Cleveland and San Bernardino forests of Southern California camp and picnic fires are permitted only at public camp grounds.

All parties camping in the national forests are required to carry a shovel and ax suitable for fire-fighting purposes. Shovels must be 36 inches overall in length with a blade at least eight inches wide, and axes not less than 26 inches long with a head weighing two pounds or more.

No smoking is permitted in the national forests, after the above mentioned dates, except in camps, at places of habitation and in special areas along roads and trails that have been fireproofed and posted with "Smoke Here" signs.

Public co-operation in the enforcement of these regulations is requested of all national forest visitors. They are designed to aid in the protection of recreational, timber and watershed values of the state, and to reduce the drain on public funds for fire suppression.

Last year nearly four million people visited the national forests of California for health, sport and enjoyment. Over 95 per cent of these vacationists were motorists. Realizing the fire danger that goes with this heavy influx of visitors and the necessity of taking every possible precaution to prevent fires from starting, the forest service recommends the following equipment for motorists and recreationists:

A stove burning kerosene or gasoline is much safer and more convenient for cooking than an open camp fire.

A mechanical pocket lighter is very useful to smokers and does away with the danger of starting a fire by carelessly discarding burning matches.

Every motorist should have his automobile equipped, both front and back seat, with ash containers in which the smokers in the car can place their burning matches and cigarets and not throw them out of the car while traveling.

Automobiles sometimes catch on fire on heavy mountain grades, and gasoline camp stoves sometimes explode. In such cases, an approved fire extinguisher effective on gasoline fires may save serious personal injury and loss, and prevent the fire from spreading to the forest.

Noted Conductors To Lead Concerts At Hillsborough

Frederick Stock, Ottorino Respighi, Bernardino Molinari, and Sir Hamilton Harty are the four noted conductors provisionally announced for the summer symphony concerts in the Woodland Theatre at Hillsborough. This list is subject to change in case of unavoidable circumstances, according to the San Mateo County Philharmonic Society, which sponsors the concerts.

Neither Stock nor Respighi has appeared before in this theatre. The former is the veteran conductor of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. He will go to Hollywood Bowl following his concert at Hillsborough. Respighi, the distinguished Italian composer-pianist, whose "Pines of Rome" and "Fountains of Rome" have been heard on several of the summer programs, is announced for a single concert.

Sir Hamilton Harty and Molinari, the fiery Italian maestro, will return to a popularity won on previous visits.

The number of concerts will be limited to four this year, as it has been deemed expedient to give them on alternate Sundays rather than each week as formerly. The first program is announced for Sunday, June 26, there will be two in July and the final one on August 7.

Season books for the four concerts are now available at the office of the Philharmonic Society in San Mateo and the privilege of using any number of admissions for any concert at the very special rate will again be extended.

Peninsula Wild Ducks

By CLAUDE FOX

Irrespective of the difference in opinions held and expressed by the hunters of wild waterfowl in this vicinity as to the scarcity at the present time of the various species of ducks and geese, the one outstanding fact which we are all reluctantly forced to admit is that the wild birds of the marshlands have practically bid us good bye.

As the readers of these articles are well aware, it is my personal opinion and belief that their disappearance was caused by reason of lack of food, although I fully understand that in taking this view I am liable to be criticized by some of the old time hunters who have in the years gone by shot beside and with me when the wild birds were so plentiful in the bay and marshes of this peninsula that the acquisition of the limit was as good as guaranteed before we left home for a hunt.

My old friend Walter R. Welch and myself will undoubtedly argue the cause of the disappearance of the wild birds until one or the other passes on where the flutter of wings, the sound of which was so dear to us, will be heard no more. This contention that it was cold lead that decimated the great numbers will never meet with my approval and he is likewise dubious about accepting my theory that it was lack of food. There is, however, the admitted fact that we do agree upon and that is that the birds have to a great extent left us, and the question naturally arises, and one which I am asked very often, where have they gone? It is one which I shall endeavor to answer and the readers of these articles are permitted to accept what I write for what they may consider it worth.

As I have stated before there was nothing phenomenal in my success as a wild duck hunter. To be sure I secured all the birds I wished at every successive hunt, but as Mr. Ripley says "believe it or not," that success was due to a close study of the wild birds, the food of the different species, their feeding time, the stage of the tide, the moon and particularly weather conditions during the winter months. So engrossed was I in the pursuit of wild waterfowl that I made the birds an intensive study, and I am willing to admit that after 50 years of continued shooting I now learn something new about the wild birds every time I go out into the bay or marshes.

And now, not being an aviator, with the ability to follow the birds in their long flights, I am forced to continue my study of their habits, and learn their whereabouts through men who have traveled and by reading every article I can lay my hands on concerning the subject dear to my heart.

My belief that the wild ducks follow their food will remain with me through life. When they left us I wanted to know where they had gone. Where was this land of plenty for the birds I loved to shoot? It was not a difficult question to solve. Between Colusa and Willows in this state lay a vast tract of alkali land, miles upon miles of it, where the farmers could raise nothing until some one found that rice could be grown in abundance. Thousands upon thousands of acres were planted. It became a veritable wild duck paradise. Millions of the birds congregated there. They were in need of food and they found it. Now go south with me. You have all heard of the Salton Sea, a great inland body of water caused by the overflow from the Colorado river. If your nerves are shattered do not go to that vicinity for a rest cure during the winter months, for you will find it difficult to sleep by reason of the pandemonium created by millions of ducks and geese congregating on that overflowed land. Mexico and Louisiana are both the winter homes of so many wild ducks and geese that it is impossible to estimate their numbers. These two last named places always have been noted for wild waterfowl but the rice fields and the Salton Sea came into existence when the wild birds of this peninsula were deprived of that which was necessary to sustain their lives.

But if you wish to see wild ducks in such great numbers that they darken the sky take a trip down to Texas, particularly that portion referred to as the Panhandle. Now this state until a few years ago was never known as a wild duck country. Of long horned cattle they had plenty to which the residents pointed with pride. Now times have changed and the big cattle ranches containing thousands of acres are traversed by the railroads and broken up into farms. Each year about 250,000 acres are being planted in cereals and the wild ducks with the instinct provided by nature are congregating there in countless millions. I have before me an article on the Panhandle ducks written by Gene A. Howe, together with photographs showing the vast quantities of wild birds that are partaking of the farmers' hospitality down in the Lone Star State. If ever there was any doubt in my mind regarding the belief that the wild ducks follow their food, it would have been quickly eradicated upon reading Mr. Howe's article. There is but one conclusion to come to and it can be expressed in few words—no food, no ducks.

The citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon will include the following from the Bible: "From whence came wars and fightings among you? come they not thence, even of your lusts that war in your members? Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw night to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded" (James 4:1, 2, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The notion that both evil and good are real is a delusion of material sense, which Science annihilates. Evil is nothing, no thing, mind, nor power. In reality theer is no mortal mind, and consequently no transference of mortal thought and will-power. Life and being are of God. In Christian Science, man can do no harm for scientific thoughts are true thoughts, passing from God to man" (pp. 330; 103).

ROAD CONDITIONS REPORTED HERE

The Yuba Pass road is now open but chains will be advisable for a short time. This route is reached by paved road from Auburn through Grass Valley to Nevada City, with good road conditions following to Downieville and Sierra City.

In the vicinity of Shellville and three miles east of that point on the Black Point cut off the road is torn up and quite rough for stretches of about half a mile each.

From Willows to Covelo the road remains closed for through travel It is expected the road will be open about the middle of June.

The correct routing to Pulga is to follow the road from Oroville to Pentz, thence to Yankee Hill. The road forks at that point and either route may be used. Both of them join the main Pulga road, thence to Pulga. There is a narrow stretch of seven miles and while there are a few turnouts, extreme care should be used. This road should not be confused with the proposed new Feather river highway out of Oroville, which is completed only for the first 11 miles. Motorists may drive beyond Pulga as far as Rock creek, where a rock slide closes the remainder of the route into Storrie.

The Big Oak Flat road offers paved and oiled surface from Manteca through Oakdale, Chinese Camp and to Jacksonville. Oiling operations are under way east of Jacksonville, but are not affecting traffic. The road remains closed as a through route to Yosemite Valley and is not expected to be opened for at least two weeks.

After being closed as a through route since the winter snows, the Placerville road, U. S. 50, is now open the entire distance to Lake Tahoe. Travel conditions are good with the exception of a short stretch near Echo Summit. This is narrow and muddy but passable without tire chains.

Hinman Gives Talk On Flag To Club

Elmore B. Hinman, county clerk, and veteran of the Spanish-American War, addressed the Kiwanis Club Wednesday at its meeting on "The Flag," a subject he had chosen for the club's program observing Memorial Day. Musical numbers were furnished by the Kiwanis quartet led by Charles Lambert and including H. J. Phillips, B. E. Myers and Duncan Reynard.

Howard I. Wood, manager of the local chamber of commerce, offered the club's congratulations to Carl Stoner on the occasion of his birthday, and gave his biography.

STILL INCREASING

NEW YORK.—Despite business conditions, air passenger traffic continues to increase. The Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce reports that passengers carried on air transport lines during the first quarter of 1932 totaled 86,763, which is an increase of 31 per cent over the 66,399 passengers carried during the corresponding period of 1931.

Natives of India cleaned their teeth as far back as 1700 B. C. They used twigs for this purpose.

Menlo Park

The City Council met in regular session Tuesday evening last. Councilman Hart was the only member absent.

This was the time set for hearing the protests of the Blue Moon Dance owners to the enforcement of the dance ordinance. Up until recently the dance owners paid a license of $15 a quarter and $5 every Saturday to a police officer for protection of the dances. The council was liberal in this regard, not enforcing the ordinance in its totality. On the first of the month the owners were compelled to pay in addition to this $5 for the Wednesday night dance and $5 a quarter for the soft drink stand at the hall.

Phil Blanchard in addressing the council declared that the raise was more than the promoters of the dance could stand and asked that the old system of charges be restored.

J. O'Keefe, who lives near the dance hall, said he had heard no complaints from the residents of the district.

Rohner, another owner, complained that under the present conditions the enterprise would fail unless a reduction was made. He was reminded by the mayor that it was at his request that the ordinance was changed to fix the licenses at $15 a quarter instead of $2.50 a night, the amount that is charged by the council at Redwood City for dances.

Attorney D. E. Sullivan, appearing for the promoters, asserted that he had advised his clients that they would have to observe the terms of the existance ordinance and if the council was liberal to them heretofore it was their good luck. The attorney said however, that owing to the depression, the council might go back to the former charge.

W. Logue and a representative of the musicians union pleaded for relief.

Police Commissioner Crane said he had numerous complaints from residents of the district where the hall is located, about the noises made on the evenings of the dance.

After considerable discussion it was decided by the council to adhere strictly to the terms of the ordinance and to enforce to the letter all its provisions. The motion was made by Dale and seconded by Crane. In addition to the added compensation all dances must close promptly at 12 o'clock.

The council passed a resolution of sympathy to Mrs. Elizabeth Blake upon the death of her husband, Dr. Alfred E. Blake, who was first mayor of Menlo Park and had been a councilman from the time of the city's incorporation to last April.

City Engineer Bert J. Mehl reported that the majority of overhanging signs in the town's business district were inadequately supported and urged the establishment of minimum requirements for supports and "sway ties."

The council adjourned to Thursday night to make the reassessment on Paraiso Park property in which street improvements were made last winter. The weed matter will also be taken up at this time.

Walter J. Holman, of Atherton, passed away last Tuesday following a long illness. For many years Mr. Holman was plumbing inspector of the City of Atherton and was well-known on the peninsula. He is survived by his widow and a son and daughter, both of the latter residing in Oregon.

Mrs. John Welch is quite ill at her home on Mills avenue. Her recovery is probematical. Mrs. Welch yesterday celebrated her 88 birthday. More than half of these years have been spent in Menlo Park.

Mary Regina Harrington, the charming and pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harrington, Pine street, Menlo Park, was united in marriage to Thomas Francis Gainer of San Mateo Tuesday of last week in the Church of the Nativity, Father Kennedy officating. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple will reside at San Mateo, where the groom has provided a cozy home for his life companion.

Yesterday James T. O'Keefe, attorney for the estate of Margaritha Broggi, deceased, filed in the county clerk's office in Redwood City the last will and testament of the deceased. The estate consisting of cash in bank amounting to $6000 and real estate located in Menlo Park is valued in excess of $10,000. C. Generelli, a nephew, is named as executor and sole legatee. Mrs. Broggi lived with him for some years p rior to her death.

Judge Hoss, chairman of the unemployment committee, has called a meeting for June 3 at the city hall. All those interested are urged to attend.

Palo Alto will join with San Mateo council Knights of Columbus for their annual picnic to be held on Sunday, June 12, at Nelson's New Varsity Park in back of Stanford University.

All Knights of Columbus, past present and future members living in San Mateo county and Palo Alto, all members of the Catholic Daughters, Young Ladies Institute, Young Men's Institute, Capuchino Club, St. Joseph alumni, and Crospian Club are cordially invited to attend and bring their friends.

The Young Ladies Institute of San Mateo was much in evidence at our picnic held at Portola Park last year. Among the prize winners was Miss K. Cosgrave who won the gate prize.

Ramon Novarro, film star, was a week-end guest at Rutland Place, the Menlo Park country home of Mrs. W. H. Moreland and her two sons, Philip and John. He left today for Hollywood to start work on his new picture.

Miss Marian Ford, daughter of Tod Ford, of Santa Monica, was married last Tuesday in Carmel to James Albert Gough of Menlo Park. The ceremony took place at Carmel Mission and the Reverand James Foley of Santa Monica officiated. Miss Eleanor Salisbury of Pasadena and Dan Gough of Menlo Park were attendants. The newlyweds will reside in Menlo Park.

Rev. Bone, rector of the local Presbyterian church and J. H. Hetzel left Monday last to attend the annual Presbyterian convention at Denver, Colorado. After the completion of the work of the meeting the delegates from Menlo Park will journey east to visit relatives and friends. They expect to return within two weeks.

All businessmen in town say that the advent of the Akron at Sunnyvale stimulated trade. The Peralta Pigeon Farm sold a thousand squabs in a few days to travelers on their way to Sunnyvale to see the big ship when it moored. There is little doubt but that the large air base will be a mammoth benefit to this locality.

Franklin M. Spencer, who passed away in a Palo Alto hospital last Saturday, took a lively interest in Menlo Park affairs during his residence here of several years. He was mentioned during the last municipal campaign as a possible candidate for town trustee. Mr. Spencer maintained a beautiful home on Arbor avenue, near the residence of Felix McGinniss, vice president of the Southern Pacific Company. He was president of the Spencer Elevator Company of San Francisco. Mr. Spencer was ill but a short time when the final summons came.

The deceased was a native of Grass Valley and was 59 years of age. He is survived by his widow Mrs. Edith O. Spencer.

The Forty Hours Devotion began at Corpus Christy Monastry yesterday morning with benediction and a procession about the grounds, the altar for the mass being erected near the entrance to the public chapel. The services will close tomorrow morning with a high mass and benediction.

Chief Love and his good looking deputies, Kearney, Dyer and Belcourt, are not perturbed over the warning received yesterday morning on the back of a post card postmarked from Palo Alto to the effect that if they failed to nab Kidnaper Black they would meet with dire results.

A portion of the old picket fence surrounding the Donohoe home on the Middlefield road is being replaced by a modern design in building. The old fence was erected by the father of the mayor of Atherton in the 60s and was an old landmark. Nowhere in the state could it be duplicated at this time.

Miss Muriel Maloney, the beautiful and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Maloney of this city, was among the graduates of the state university at Berkeley last week. She received her B.A. degree and was an honor student. Miss Maloney most likely will engage in teaching.

The funeral services for Margaritha Broggi in the Church of the Nativity Tuesday morning were largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. Mrs. Broggi, a native of Italy, arrived accompanied by her first husband and a number of fresco painters. Mr. Broggi and his companions from the old country went to work on the Flood mansion, then in course of erection, and completed the frescoing. Many of the magnificently painted rooms in the home are the artistic work of Mr. Broggi. Artists from all parts of the world come to view with admiration the beauties of the apartments. It is said the work is not excelled anywhere in the country. She was the widow of the late Luigi Broggi and was the mother of Angelina Weber, who died some years ago. She is survived by a nephew, C. Generrilli. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery where her loved ones rest. She had been a resident of Menlo Park for 56 years.

Bernard M. Doolin, connected with the aviation department of a large oil company, was named to succeed Francis. Doolin was in the air service during the World War and came out with the rank of captain.

What will become of his first pay check?

Statistics show that 84% of all men living at age 65 are dependent upon others. Only 1 in 100 is wealthy. Only 4 have incomes. Probably at the start each was sure he'd be well off some day.

This young man, just out of college, soon starts his first job. His success will depend largely upon what becomes of his first pay check. If some of it goes into a savings account, he'll be almost dead sure to succeed.

After all, there is only one way to financial success. You must start saving NOW to win!
